

TENDERS ARE CALLED

Lighting Program Planned For Patricia Bay Highway

Tenders have been called by the provincial government for the installation of lighting systems on Patricia Bay Highway at McTavish Road and Beacon Ave. This announcement was made at press time last week by Saanich M.L.A. John Tisdalle. The lighting systems have been sought by various local organizations since the highway detour was opened several months ago.

The calling of tenders is the first move to be announced by the government towards relieving the traffic hazard of the highway through Sidney.

Various other safety factors are being sought locally in order to eliminate the danger of the high speed highway through a built-up community.

Lights To Be Installed

Requests Partly Successful

Sidney Village Council and Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce have met with some success in their attempts to have various driving aids and restrictions installed on the portion of the Patricia Bay Highway which passes through the village.

A flashing red and amber light will be installed at the corner of Beacon Ave. and the highway shortly by the department of highways. The information was contained in a letter received by the village council on Monday from Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi. The amber light will act as a warning to highway traffic, while the red light will be for cars on Beacon Ave.

As no indication that lighting would be included at the corner of Weiler Ave. and the highway, council authorized that a letter be written to the highways minister informing him of the dangers. An accident at this corner less than one month after the road was opened claimed the life of Herbert Barton.

CAMPBELL ELECTED TRUSTEE

—At Sidney

Newcomer to municipal affairs, A. G. Campbell was elected school trustee to represent Sidney on the board of trustees of Saanich School District at the municipal elections on Thursday. He defeated T. A. Aiers and Frank Richards, drawing a total of 136 votes. His opponents took 103 votes each.

Mr. Campbell came to Sidney after the Second World War with Trans-Canada Air Lines. He left the company when he was directed to another airport and opened up an aircraft sales and service company of his own at Patricia Bay Airport. When Pairey Aviation Co. of Canada Ltd. opened its western plant here, Mr. Campbell lost his premises to the new company and relinquished its operation.

He was later engaged in contracting and took over the floor finishing service formerly operated by Fred Madsen.

Mr. Campbell is currently studying to become a teacher.

The new trustee has been prominent in the activities of the Kilmarnock Club of Sidney. A charter member of the club, he was deputy governor of the Kilmarnock district several years ago and travelled all over Vancouver Island addressing Kilmarnock clubs. He has held various offices in the local club. He resides with his wife and family on Amelia Ave.

Commissioner J. E. Bosher will resume his seat on Sidney village council next year. He will be accompanied by L. R. Christian, who edged out Commissioner J. H. Larocque at the polls.

First Step Taken Following Hall Referendum Approval

—Passed By Wide Margin

First move towards the construction of a new municipal office was taken by Central Saanich council Tuesday evening following the approval of the referendum on the hall last Thursday.

The referendum to borrow the $40,000 required to finance the building of a new hall was approved by a wide margin. Total of 402 votes were cast approving the referendum, while only 168 registered negative votes.

At the last meeting of council for 1962 on Tuesday, Councillor A. Vickers made a motion that a strip 66 feet wide on the west side of the future site of the hall be added to the 1.6 acres council has

To Provide Full Vocational Course

Community College Mooted For Three School Districts

—Investigation Launched Here

Community college to provide vocational training on apprenticeship level for students in Saanich, Sooke and Greater Victoria School Districts is to be investigated by the board of trustees of Saanich School District. The decision to open such investigation was reached on Monday evening when trustees heard reports of a workshop of trustees and representatives of industry in Nanaimo recently.

Trustees Jack Southern and Lewis Harvey reported on the discussions in Nanaimo, when the function and purpose of community colleges were discussed.

The community college is intended to provide academic and vocational instruction on a two-year basis within the school district, city or community embraced by its operation, explained Mr. Southern.

Two types of education were debated by trustees during the workshop. Community colleges offer a wide scope of training. The alternative proposal, a junior college, offers only academic subjects on the same two-year term.

Such institutions would be locally operated and constructed and would be partially financed by the school district or districts served.

The junior college, by offering two years of university, would relieve the burden from the established universities.

Mr. Southern stated he was unable to foresee the time when Saanich School District could operate such a school on its own.

Trustees were told that the minimum attendance necessary for the economic operation of such institutions was between 400 and 500, although Ontario, which has undertaken a similar type of school for some years, assesses the figure at 1,000 students.

Capt. Jack Rowton stated that he had been seeking some form of vocational training for years. The technical courses will have to be streamlined out with the unions first, he warned.

"We are in the middle of another industrial revolution right now," he stated, "we can't afford to wait years before such a scheme is operating."

The outspoken protagonist of vocational courses warned trustees that the threat of automation had brought its influence to schools everywhere and that students must be offered an adequate technical education in order to find employment afterwards.

Education is still set up on academic lines, he noted.

INTELLECTUAL SNOBBERY "We are still suffering from intellectual snobbery in our schools," he added.

Lewis Harvey agreed with the general need for technical education, but he was not satisfied that a vocational school or community college was the idea without further ramifications.

"The old apprenticeship system is still the best," he asserted. Automation in France is far beyond that in the United States, observed Capt. Rowton, but in France full employment is still enjoyed as a result of the close liaison between the parties concerned.

The department of education must be convinced of the need for a properly established vocational course, concluded Capt. Rowton.

"They'll have to be convinced by the unions and management," he stated, "because they won't listen to the school boards."

SEEK SOLUTION

The school board will negotiate with the two local districts early in the new year with a view to finding a solution to the provision of adequate technical training.

The vocational school is not related to the vocational course in the present secondary schools. The department of education has announced that the general course of education will be renamed a vocational course. This will have no direct bearing on the vocational schools or community colleges currently under discussion.

He Seeks To Form Stamp Club Here

Sidney stamp dealer, H. O. Munger, is seeking the formation of a philately club in the area. In company with a fervent stamp collector, R. O. Jones, of Saanichton, Mr. Munger hopes to bring together collectors on the Peninsula with a view to exchanging gossip and information.

Stamp clubs are to be found all over the world, said Mr. Munger. With a substantial number of keen collectors here a club would be a great asset to the district.

Collectors interested in the formation of such a club may communicate with Mr. Munger at 475-2116 or Mr. Jones at 474-1568.

Johnny Drives To School In His Car

And Who Is Answerable For Accidents?

Johnny drives to school in his car or borrows his parents' car for the purpose. Johnny picks up two friends en route to school and is involved in an accident. The two friends are injured and Johnny's insurance is public liability only, with no coverage for passengers.

There ensues a law-suit. To what extent is the school principal responsible?

This question was posed by secondary school principals of Saanich School District to trustees on Monday evening.

The question was unanswerable.

According to the School Act the student is the responsibility of the principal from the time he leaves home en route to school until he reaches home from school.

One principal recalled an instance where a student attended school in his own pick-up. He was solemnly forbidden to carry any other students in the truck, but disobeyed his instructions and took two friends. Both were thrown out of the vehicle and suffered injury.

The only barrier to a legal action, explained the principal, was the fact that the principal's instructions had been given before witnesses.

USE OF VEHICLES

Students not only travel to school in their own vehicles, but they use those vehicles to travel to games and other school activities, the board was told. There is no plan to eliminate the use of cars. The query arises in view of the fact that a school or the school board might be legally responsible in case of accident. The trustees will investigate measures taken in other school districts while approaching the district solicitor and the insurance agent concerned.

Christian Ousts Larocque In Sidney Council Election

—Bosher Heads Polls

One Sidney village commissioner lost his seat while his colleague headed the polls in the municipal elections here on Thursday.

Commissioner J. H. Larocque was edged out of office by newcomer, L. R. Christian. Commissioner J. E. Bosher, undertaking his third battle at the polls, regained his seat.

Commissioner Bosher has resided here for most of his life. He is a retired member of the staff of the Dominion Experimental Station at Saanichton. Active in the work of the Anglican church in Sidney, Mr. Bosher has served two terms on the village council.

Mr. Christian is a former public school teacher who has operated a successful business in Sidney for many years. He is proprietor of Sidney Furniture. He has been closely identified with parent-teacher activities and other community projects for many years.

The new commissioner-elect is a member of the zoning board of appeal of North Saanich.

Mr. Christian will assume his new seat of office in January.

Final results of Thursday's poll showed:

MARKING PROCEDURE CHANGED

Percentage marking of reports in Saanich schools will not be required in the primary grades.

On Monday evening Capt. J. Rowton reported that he had investigated his earlier motion to give both letter grading and percentages. The latter are not feasible in primary grades, he announced and moved an amendment to the resolution whereby these classes will be excluded.

In all other grades the board has ruled that both percentages and letter grades be indicated.

Heating Plant Is Censured

Modification of the heating plant at North Saanich secondary school must await the completion of the architect's investigations.

On Monday evening Lewis Harvey reported that the science room at the school was inadequately heated. He explained that the only means of maintaining warmth in the room was to turn up the thermostats and to overheat the remainder of the school.

Principal D. E. Breckenridge reported that other parts of the school were being operated with windows and doors open to reduce the compensating temperature.

The architect is to be urged to expedite his investigation in view of the high cost involved in the present system of heating.

Library Uncertain

Library referendum in Sidney on Thursday, Dec. 6 gained a majority of 57 per cent.

No conclusive answer to the referendum has yet been made. The final decision will be made by the provincial government.

If a simple majority is required, then the referendum succeeded. If a three-fifths majority is required, then it failed. Different departments of the government hold conflicting views on the degree of consent required.

No action was taken by the village council on Monday evening. The village will await the decision of the government. Counting of the ballots revealed 109 in favor and 150 opposed.

Fulton Studies Submissions

—"Feasible"

Submission by Sidney Village Council and Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce that provisions be made at Sidney wharf for tourists has been studied by Works Minister Dave Fulton.

In a letter to the council and chamber, Esquimalt-Saanich M.P. George Chatterton reported he had discussed the matter with Mr. Fulton who considered a suggestion by the Capital Region Planning Board that movable floats would be feasible. Further detailed studies will be made, said the local member of parliament.

Mr. Chatterton said, "I recognize the need for improved facilities for tourists and will continue to press for this worthy project."

Roads Are Renamed Here Only One Patricia Bay Highway Left

Three roads in North Saanich and the Village of Sidney have been renamed.

The old Patricia Bay Highway connecting the McTavish Road junction with the airport entrance is now two separate roads.

From McTavish Road to the green houses at Frost Ave. it is Canora Road. East Saanich Road now runs from its former termination at Frost Ave. through to the airport entrance.

John Tisdalle, Saanich M.L.A., announced the changes this week. In both cases the new names are those which were used prior to the construction of Patricia Bay Highway.

TOTAL RUN East Saanich Road now runs from Keating Creek Road junction north to the airport entrance.

Section of the old Canora Road intersecting the Sidney Waterworks District will be known as Wells Road. Gazetted as a road, this section has never been pushed through because of its proximity to the waterworks.

Third section of the old highway, north of the airport, links Beacon Ave. with the intersection at Stene's Garage and Sandown race track. This section will in future be known as McDonald Park Road and represents an extension of that road.

OLD HIGHWAY

East Saanich Road is one of the oldest highways in the district. Canora Road was named in honor of the Canadian National Railway, whose right of way it follows. McDonald Park Road was recently named when Patricia Bay Highway was pressed through to the Swartz Bay ferry wharfs. It was also for a brief period known as Blue Heron Road. The latter name is still in use by a number of residents.

TROPHIES ARE AWARDED TO YOUNG GOAT BREEDERS AT ACHIEVEMENT NIGHT

Members of the North and South Saanich 4-H Goat Clubs held the annual achievement night on Saturday evening, Dec. 1, at the Saanich Experimental Farm.

Special guests, who took part in presenting ribbons and trophies, were: Alan Littler, B.C. department of agriculture; Mrs. E. Eagle, secretary of the lower Vancouver Island Branch, B.C. Gootkeepers; Mrs. E. Smart, goat convener of the Saanich Fair; G. Flint, 4-H convener of the Kinsmen Fall Fair; Mr. and Mrs. W. McDowell, representing the 4-H leaders' council; G. Grier, from Scott and Peden, the sponsor of the North Club; W. McCubbin of the Victoria Kiwanis sponsor of the South Club, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Galbraith.

The evening's ceremonies were conducted entirely by the 4-H members. Cheryl Moyer, president of the North Club, and Wendy Baker, president of the South Club, were joint chairmen.

Philip Howe, secretary of the North Club, and Mary Watson, secretary of the South Club, gave resumes of their year's club activities.

CARD PARTY IS BIG DRAW AS WEATHER WILD

The wild night on Saturday, Dec. 1, did not keep everybody at home, for 14 tables of players competed for the turkeys and Christmas puddings at the Brentwood Institute's annual card party.

While the number was disappointing to those who had prepared for so many more, everyone had a pleasant evening with keen play, close results, good prizes and a delicious supper.

Mrs. C. Meiklejohn won the cut to take the first prize turkey, with Mrs. Phillips winning the second and Mrs. C. W. Parker the pudding. Gentlemen's first prize winner was Mr. Matthews, who walked off with the large turkey. Mrs. Roger Ronson won the cut for the second, while J. Bryce won the pudding.

Door prizes were won by Miss V. Harrison and R. Blake. C. Harrison was the lucky winners of a huge turkey and Jim McKevitt's name was drawn for the beautiful large Christmas cake, made by a member, Mrs. J. P. MacFarlane.

Mrs. H. B. Wood had made the puddings and generous local merchants had contributed the door prizes. Wm. Fortune again assisted at the door and as M.C. with Mrs. Ronson. Mrs. M. Leigh, vice-president, was general convener.

The players were welcomed and thanked by the president, Mrs. E. G. Woodward.

participating in public speaking, making feed reports, learning to judge and show goats, and showing their goats at numerous fairs in southern Vancouver Island and on the lower mainland.

THANKS TO PARENTS

A vote of thanks to the parents was moved by Margaret Lord from the North Club and Greg Colban from the South Club. Maureen Crampton and Rhodena Cronk thanked the sponsors and those who had kindly donated special prizes and trophies.

Paul Howe, junior leader of the North Club, gave the achievement ribbons to the North Club members, and Bruce Gordon, junior leader of the South Club, gave out the achievement ribbons to their members. Special awards from Nick's Resort, Island View Beach, for best conditioned goat in the 4-H achievement classes at Saanich Fair, went to Paul Howe, North Club, and Ron Colban, South Club.

The big event of the evening was the presentation of the achievement trophies. Junior trophies were awarded to Greg Colban of South Club, who won the Kiwanis junior cup, and to Ken Moyer, of North Club, who won the T. Eaton Co. junior cup.

The Maule intermediate trophy went to Philip Howe of the North Club and the Scott and Peden intermediate trophy to Rhodena Cronk of the South Club.

In the senior division, Cheryl Moyer and Paul Howe tied for the Moncrest trophy in the North Club, and Wendy Baker was awarded the Ellison Milling and Elevator Co. trophy in South Club.

Mrs. E. Smart presented the May L. Rose showmanship trophy to Rose Smart and Wendy Baker. Rose Smart presented the kid goat cup trophy to Ron Colban for winning top honors in the adult goatkeepers' kid goat classes at the last Saanich Fair. Junior badges and senior certificates in judging, showmanship, public speaking, demonstrations, and goat husbandry were awarded to the members who had done outstanding work in these sections of the 4-H program.

The highlight of the refreshment period was a huge cake in the 4-H colors of green and white which marked the eighth year of 4-H goat clubs on Vancouver Island.

Large, Attentive Audience At Mount Newton Concert

—Popular Quartet Returns

By AN OLD BOY

A large, attentive crowd of parents and students filled the gymnasium of Mount Newton junior secondary school Friday evening for the school's annual Christmas concert which was highlighted this year by the ex-students' quartet.

After opening the program with O Canada, several Christmas and other selections were played by an accordion ensemble with Judy Tuttle, Sheila Harrison, Judy Chilcott and Donna Simpson. The 27-voice grade eight girls' choir quickly assembled on the stage next for three songs, Bring a Torch, Wassail Song and Thirty-Two Feet.

The soft voices of Ina Timmer, Zena Lay and Leah Osland then sang It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas.

The audience hushed as ex-student Ron Macham took the stage and in his practiced tenor voice sang a composition of Mendelssohn, If With All Your Hearts.

Last item on the program before intermission was a play by the school's Drama Club, entitled

Good King Wenceslaus. Costumes and settings for this play were excellent. Altogether, 25 students took part in the familiar story and all lines were spoken clearly and loud enough to be easily heard at the rear of the gymnasium.

A dropping pin could have been heard when young magician David MacFarlane entertained the court in the play. The part of King Wenceslaus was ably taken by Roy Mezger. Anne Gardner as Queen Anne and Janet Southern as the jester were also very good. John Tidman was a convincing peasant.

Following a brief intermission during which some home baking was quickly sold, the Music 10-20 ensemble opened the second part of the program with Deck the Halls and the Negro spiritual Go Tell It on the Mountain. The girls' sextette was assisted by Ron Macham for Deep In My Heart after the girls had rendered Getting to Know You, from South Pacific.

HARMONY
Time seemed to fly back about three years when the ex-students' quartet, consisting of Ron Macham, Bruce Fisher, Ron Chisholm and John Howe gathered on the stage and harmonized for While Strolling Through the Park, Coney Island Babe, Hush, and Babylon's Falling. As in the past, they drew long applause as well as many laughs in Coney Island Babe. They had the touch of experienced amateurs and near professionals.

After the quartette, the grade nine girls' ensemble sang Christmas Dawn, Christmas Lullaby and Lift Thine Eyes. All the choirs, assisted by the ex-students, then combined for A Star Was His Candle.

Last item on the program was a second play, presented by the Drama 10 class.

LITTLE STAR
"The Little Star" was a fairy-tale style of story which described the choosing of the star to guide the Three Wise Men on their trek to Bethlehem. Ricky Gross drew a number of laughs as Mr. Morrow, while the part of the Little Star was brightly filled by Judy Windsor.

Accompanying and directing the singers during the evening was the school's music teacher T. Parfitt. It was Mr. Parfitt who first organized the popular quartette when all four boys were students at Mount Newton.

Usual characteristics of many school concerts, long delays between presentations, prompting, and background noises were not in evidence on Friday. From the spectators' viewpoint at least, everything went very smoothly. It was a good evening's entertainment, and students and teachers were very gratified at the large turnout of parents and friends.

CENTRAL SAANICH

SAANICHTON

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rossell and daughters, Norma and Judy, Newman Road, were recent week-end visitors to Vancouver, where Mr. and Mrs. Rossell attended the banquet and dance staged by Honeywell Construction, with whom Mr. Rossell is employed. Norman and Judy spent the week-end with Miss Yvonne Isfield and her family. The Isfields are well known in the district, having only moved to Vancouver about a year ago, where Mr. Isfield is employed with the provincial government.

G. Wilson, Dubuc, Sask., is spending the winter with his sister, Mrs. M. Sefton, East Saanich Road. Mr. Wilson has been an annual visitor here for the past several years.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Pelter, with sons Wayne and Lyle, Chemainus, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Pelter, Mount Newton Cross Road.

Sunday School Christmas Program On December 21

Members of Sluggert Memorial Baptist Sunday school are rehearsing for the annual Sunday school Christmas program.

The program, called "The Gates of Christmas", will feature recitations, a play, and special music by the various musical groups of the church. It will be held in the church on Friday, Dec. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

WAR AND CONSCRIPTION

CONCERNS OF 20-YEAR-OLD PAPER

Twenty years ago the forces of the west, combined with those of Soviet Russia, were battling the German military colossus which had built up to threaten the entire world.

The incidents of two decades ago were recalled this week when a Review man unearthed a copy of the Vancouver Sun for May 2, 1942. Predominant concern of that newspaper was the approval by Canada of conscription and the parallel denial of the issue by the province of Quebec.

The headline stated that the Chinese had smashed the Jap drive and the story went on to relate that Mandalay had fallen. War was the main feature of the paper, with many a dateline carrying the legend, "Somewhere in England".

Dorothy Thompson was drawing a parallel between Napoleon in Russia and Hitler in Russia and proving a close relationship. Dorothy Dix was urging a young lady to relinquish her association with a reluctant swain, and the Sun was urging the Canadian government to eliminate Clause Three and its prohibition of general overseas conscription.

David Spencer Ltd. was offering ladies the choice of tweed coats at $22.50, with a dress for $4. Spencer's offered beef roasts for 22

TWO THRILLING DRAMAS FOR MOVIE PATRONS

Story of a psychopath's campaign of terror against two sisters, "Experiment in Terror," starring Glenn Ford and Lee Remick, will be shown December 13, 14 and 15 at the Gein Theatre in Sidney.

Filed in San Francisco, the story is concerned with Ford's efforts, as an F.B.I. agent, to protect two sisters who are the targets of a terror campaign. At the same time he tries, in co-operation with the San Francisco police, to trap the man responsible. Miss Remick, elder of the two girls, is a teller in a local bank. Using the threat of murder, the criminal intends to force her to embezzle $100,000 for him.

Henry Mancini's music is heard in "Experiment in Terror," which was produced and directed by Blake Edwards.

On December 17, 18 and 19, the Gem will show one of the toughest pictures ever made in Britain. Starring Stanley Baker, Margit Saad, Sam Wanamaker and Gregoire Aslan, "Concrete Jungle" tell the story of a criminal's life both in and outside prison walls.

Baker, as the criminal, plots the biggest robbery of his career while spending three years in prison. After his release, the criminal and his cronies pull the robbery off smoothly but their plans are unwittingly upset by beautiful Suzanne (Margit Saad), whom Baker meets at a "coming out" party for him. "Concrete Jungle" is adult entertainment only.

BRENTWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Prowse have sold their property on Hovey Road and are moving to Hagan Road. Mr. and Mrs. Battler, from Ontario, who have been staying at Brentwood Auto Court are the new owners and will take up residence on Hovey Road in the near future.

Mrs. R. Barnett, West Saanich Road, has returned home after spending two weeks in Vancouver with her daughter who is recuperating after an accident when she hurt her shoulder.

The annual White-Gift service of the Brentwood United Church will be held next Sunday morning, Dec. 16 at 11:15. In the evening the church school concert will be held at 7 o'clock.

THE Review is celebrating a birthday this week. It's a milestone in the history of this little newspaper—our 50th anniversary. First issue appeared on the streets of Sidney on December 13, 1912, and every week since The Review has appeared through lean and prosperous times alike.

First manager of The Review—then known as Sidney and Islands Review—was the late W. H. Bohannon. The local press was established by Sidney Printing and Publishing Company, Limited, whose shareholders were public-spirited residents who wished to further the progress of Sidney and its district. Prominent among this group was the late J. J. White, who survived all his contemporaries in the newspaper venture. He passed away in Sidney in 1958.

Present publishers of The Review are deeply appreciative of the foresight and hard work expended by those now long dead which brought this little sheet into being and nurtured it during its formative years. We take understandable pride, however, in the fact that it continues to fulfill their objectives of stimulating and encouraging the growth of this community. As we embark on our second half-century of service to this area, we pledge ourselves to continue to produce a worthwhile newspaper which will assist in the steady, sane development of the Saanich Peninsula and the Gulf Islands.

Trustworthy old press which produced the first issue of The Review 50 years ago is still a reliable workhorse in the newspaper plant. But it has been joined by countless tons of more modern machinery which all combine to put out a modern newspaper.

The period immediately before Christmas is not considered an ideal time to celebrate a golden anniversary of this type but it is planned to publish a commemorative issue in the New Year which will record for posterity the first 50 years of The Review's service to its readers.

A MOVE IS MADE

DEPARTMENT of Highways has finally taken action regarding local pleas for improvements on Patricia Bay Highway.

Currently planned is a warning light at the highway and Beacon Ave. intersection. Traffic on the highway will be cautioned by a flashing amber light, while a red light will flash to traffic on the side road. In addition two intersections are to be illuminated.

This action solves part of the problem created by the highway. It also conforms with part of the recommendations made by the Sidney village council and the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

Recommendations made by the village for a reduction in speed limit from 60 m.p.h. to 40 was rejected as being unnecessary.

Two men have died on this section of highway. We are confident that when the toll has reached a reasonable number the department will reconsider the pleas.

In the meantime the local representations have also asked for white paint on curbs already placed on the highway, in order that the driver may see the edge of the road when he turns off the highway. Illumination of other intersections, particularly that at Weller Ave., have also been requested.

It is pleasing and gratifying to see the department act on the recommendations of those responsible for the administration of local areas. It is less so to see their pleas pared down like a municipal budget without apparent reason or close concern.

In this district the value of the highway is fully appreciated. Nevertheless, the claim that a reduction in speed is unnecessary through the village indicates little concern or interest in the users of the highway who are not simply passing through. If the highway is to be treated as a throughway, then it should be so constructed. If it is to continue the dual purpose of serving Saanich Peninsula as well as the province of British Columbia, then the government's officials should be prepared to consider the safety and welfare of Saanich Peninsula.

We are left in an unenviable position. The same government which refuses to safeguard our lives and those of our children is that which has also declined to provide an augmented police force here in order that the inadequacy of the highway might be counteracted by increased patrolling. The local voice is feeble or the department is rather deaf!

VOCATIONAL COURSES

PROBLEM of following the constant changes in education administration has never been more difficult than it is today.

Two new provisions are being sought in this and other school districts. The first is a vocational course, which is the name to be allocated to the former general course in provincial secondary schools. Simultaneously the administration is concerned with the provision of a vocational school. It all sounds so simple.

Yet a vocational course is not offered in a vocational school. The vocational school has no bearing on the vocational course. A vocational course is offered in a secondary school, but no vocational course is planned to extend into a vocational school.

To add to the confusion an opportunity class is completely distinct from a vocational class, which is still a separate function from a vocational school.

Can this go on?

Visit To Scotland By King Olav A Memorable Occasion

By DORIS LEMDAN HOBBS

ART EXHIBIT BIG ATTRACTION AT RECENT TEA

Wind and driving rain did not dampen the enthusiasm of those who viewed the art exhibit at the recent Christmas tea and bazaar at Shady Creek United Church.

Local artists were well represented, and hobby displays showed a variety of interests. A large collection of student art demonstrated considerable talent.

A new feature at the Shady Creek tea, the art exhibit was arranged by Mrs. A. Jones assisted by Mrs. E. Oakes.

The bazaar was officially opened by Mrs. V. A. Beaumont, president of Victoria Presbyterian United Church Women, who was introduced by Mrs. C. J. Cruickshank. Guests were welcomed by Mrs. L. C. Hooper and Mrs. Cruickshank.

The tea room, gaily decorated in the Christmas theme by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. W. MacLeod, was well patronized.

Ladies of the U.C.W. were assisted in serving tea by girls of the junior choir. Those pouring tea were Mrs. J. G. G. Bompas, Mrs. W. Hilton, Mrs. W. Wiltshire and Mrs. H. Simpson.

HOUSE CALLS AND CAROLS TO OPEN APPEAL

The 59th Annual World Mission Appeal, sponsored by Rest Haven Seventh-day Adventist Church, opens this week by house-many of us have Norwegian blood in our veins and still more have Scots blood. To them, I venture to gather from "The Scotsman" an account and an impression which will make them all wish they too could have been on the dock at Leith to greet the royal yacht; or standing on the route from Holyroodhouse to Ushers Hall, where the royal visitor received the freedom of Edinburgh.

Seventeen years ago, this same king, as Crown Prince Olav sailed from Scotland after five years in Britain spent in repelling the surge of Nazism and in freeing his country.

NEW ERA

I am not going to talk of the 100,000 who lined the streets, or of 15,000 schoolchildren who cheered so happily, or of Prince Philip who, as Chancellor of Edinburgh University, conferred on King Olav an honorary LL.D. and said: "A new era in academic relations between Scotland and Norway is to the advantage of both... this occasion symbolizes the vital part which people and places of learning can play in promoting international understanding and co-operation." But, I want to talk of the marvelous state banquet held in the Picture Gallery at Holyroodhouse when our royal family did honor to King Olav and his royal household.

What a sight that banquet must have been! Gold plate was brought north (last used for the coronation of George VI), priceless Louis XVth porcelain came from Buckingham Palace to serve the 100 guests who sat at the 110-foot table. One wonders what the spirits of the 100 Scottish kings, whose portraits lined the walls, would have thought of our lovely little Queen and of the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret in whose veins flow both Scottish and Viking blood.

Her Majesty wore a full skirted white lace dress embroidered with brilliant and iridescent beads, pearl and diamond necklace and earrings, and a tiara of diamonds and pearls. The sash of the Order of St. Olav, her Thistle Star and the Norwegian Star.

HAUNTED

Her Majesty rose to propose the health of the honored guest. She began: "This house of my ancestors is haunted by historic memories, many glorious, many festive, and a few gloomy and grim. Yet, even against so rich a background, of Scottish tradition, tonight will add a notable chapter to the long history of Holyroodhouse; for, never in the last 34 centuries, have we had the honor of entertaining here in state, the royal head of a great and friendly nation. What more fitting place of meeting could this be for us than this ancient Kingdom of Scotland, where the map is studied with Norse names, twisted though they may be by our Scottish tongues."

"We have shared with Norway a love of democracy and peace, and we have shared another Viking quality; the spirit of adventure."

SECOND TO NONE

"Our peoples in close contact with the sea, impelled our fishing fleets to seek their livelihood far from home and created our two great merchant fleets, second to none in the world. Today, your Majesty, is a great family occasion for our peoples. The Norwegians are our neighbors and close friends; but they are more than that; wherever Britain and Norway meet there is an instinctive bond of sympathy and understanding. It is in this spirit of kinship, Your Majesty, that I raise my glass to drink to your good health and long life, and to the prosperity and good fortune of our friends, the Norwegian people."

It was a splendid speech, and I have left out so much, but even so I have perhaps passed on the feeling which pervaded that great occasion.

Chairman Expresses Regret

Regret that Commissioner J. H. Larocque will be leaving Sidney Village Council next year was expressed by Chairman A. A. Cormack on Monday evening. Commissioner Larocque was edged out by L. R. Christian in the municipal elections December 6.

The chairman expressed the appreciation of the council for the work he had achieved on behalf of the village.

"Your work on the Capital Region Planning Board, the civil defence, public works, finance and the many other duties assigned you," continued Mr. Cormack, "were done in a very cheerful and conscientious manner... and has brought credit to yourself and the community."

The chairman said he regretted Commissioner Larocque's leaving the council, but that Commissioner Larocque has the satisfaction of knowing that he has contributed greatly to the improvement and betterment of Sidney.

"I sincerely hope that you will again offer yourself for election to this council," concluded Chairman Cormack.

to-house calls accompanied by Christmas carolers.

Leading the volunteer workers participating in the drive is Pastor W. Rogers.

Funds will go toward extending welfare, disaster aid and educational services at home as well as a widespread medical, welfare and educational ministry in 95 other countries.

The local welfare centre is located in Rest Haven Church on Resthaven Drive.

NEW CHURCH OFFICERS FOR REST HAVEN

Total of 84 church offices were filled for 1963 on Saturday when Rest Haven Church held its annual elections.

Named head elder (lay assistant to the minister) for the new year was H. Goertzen. Associate elders will be L. Gurney and N. Tkachuk.

Church members elected C. Janke head deacon and Miss E. McKeith head deaconess. There will be 10 assisting in these offices.

Sabbath school superintendent for 1963 will be Miss Elva Bade. Youth leader for the church will be N. Tkachuk, and church treasurer is Mrs. C. Janke.

All church offices are filled by the democratic process with the exception of that of the pastor, who is assigned to his church by the British Columbia Conference of Seventh-day Adventists with headquarters in Mission City.

A report of the church's progress during 1962 will be given at the close of the year, when the new officers take over their appointed posts.

SUCCESSFUL CARD PARTY AT SAANICHTON

A very successful Christmas "500" turkey card party was held last Friday evening in the Agricultural Hall, under the auspices of the Saanichton Community Club with 42 tables of players vying for the many prizes.

Winners at cards were: 1. Mrs. W. Butler; 2. Mrs. A. E. Henl; 3. Mrs. R. Ratcliffe; 4. Mrs. C. Clarke; 5. C. Fitt; 6. C. Skinner.

Prize for lowest scores went to Mary Tuttle and W. J. Carter. Prizes for high aggregate scores for the season for those attending the regular fortnightly card parties, went to Mr. and Mrs. P. Hamilton.

Winners of the Christmas raffles, all prizes which had been donated, were: Barry Bickford, C. Murray, L. Donnelly, P. Butterfield, E. Richmond, Mrs. A. Eldo, M. Ridings, P. Hamilton, W. Moore, Tom Perry, Tom Kerr, Bud Mitchell, Mrs. W. Watson, P. Bompas, S. Watling, G. Hensstreet, R. Mitchell, Mrs. Little, N. Donaldson, M. Hurst, Mrs. R. Crayford, Sid Upson, Mrs. G. MacKenzie, W. Butler, J. W. Black, Steve Kennedy, Frank Grimsbury and E. Edgell.

Refreshments were served by community club members. The community club would like to publicly thank all those who made donations, or helped in any way to make this annual event a success.

SURPLUS FOOD STALL THIS SATURDAY

Surplus Food Stall Co-ordinator Mrs. E. E. Harper announced Monday that the next "Food Stall Day" will be held this Saturday, Dec. 16. "Any surplus food from gardens, kitchen shelves or deep freeze will be more than welcome and also deeply appreciated by the recipients who so desperately need the assistance," said Mrs. Harper.

Anyone with food to donate to the stall may contact Mrs. Harper at her home at 5095 Patricia Bay Highway, phone GR 4-1750. This is a good way to show the true Christmas spirit, suggested Mrs. Harper.

"Doughbor Daze", by Hazel O'Neill. Gray Publishing. 142 pp. $3.25.

On a CBC television program this week Gordon Sinclair stated that a group of Canadians in British Columbia "is being pushed around right now and I'm mad!"

His observation was in keeping with that of most Canadians west of the Rockies who are vitally concerned with the Doughbor problem, have strong views on the subject and know virtually nothing about it.

F. G. Richards Hazel O'Neill has learned a lot about Doughbors. She taught their children two decades ago or more and she lived among the Russo-Canadian sect to observe their mode of life and their problems, both the difficulties thrust upon them and those which they managed to discover for themselves.

This is the story of her life among the Doughbors.

It is far from a learned dissertation on their philosophy. It does not pretend to find any answer to the situation which has plagued governments here for decades. It is the light-hearted recollection of a teacher who once went into the Doughbor country cold.

Straight from normal school to Brilliant, Miss Hulls found herself in a new world. Primitive dwellings, lack of power, running water or indoor sanitation and a new English language punctuated with the vulgarisms which had early been assimilated by an alien colony and passed down as accepted terminology.

This atmosphere of rugged living, where music and the arts were looked on with suspicion and where life was lived in a manner completely foreign to the young teacher was met with her only weapon, a sharp sense of humor.

Her book sparkles with humor as she describes people and places. She sees not an unkempt old man, but a figure who is in terrible danger of losing his buttons. She finds acute pathos in the young girl whose sole ambition in life is to wear a dress of conventional Canadian style. Everything and everyone is seen through the teacher's eyes. Her vision is sharp and her humor sometimes cutting, but it is invariably good-natured.

This group of which she writes is not the conventional Doughbor colony of today. It is the group which has recently adopted the "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us."—Matt. 1:23.

The Christmas season is upon us and we find ourselves thinking again of the old story of the birth and life of the Saviour. There is no other story that is so widely known nor can mean as much to man as this story of the Christ Child, the Son of God. What the story means to each of us depends on what we think of the Child of Christmas.

When the morn of the birth of Christ arrived, shepherds came to the feet of the Child and worshipped Him because they believed the announcement of the angels of the night that the Son of God had been born. In the appropriate time when men from the east also came and bowed before the Child, although they were kings they worshipped Him, acknowledging Him to be the King of kings.

But while there were those who worshipped Him there were also those who would put Him to death if they only could. Herod sought the young child to slay Him. He also had to be kept away from Archelaus, who reigned after his father Herod. Finally He was slain by the Romans but by the will of the Jewish leaders.

What does Christ mean to you? Is He really the Son of God—Divine? If so, have you really given Him the place of Royalty in your planning and in your life? His name shall be Emanuel, God with us.

Letters To The Editor

CONGRATULATIONS

May I, through your columns, take this opportunity of thanking those people of Sidney who supported me at the recent election. In addition, I would like to congratulate Messrs. Boshier and

GRATITUDE

May I have the privilege, through your "letters" column, of commiserating with those who, like myself, were defeated in the recent elections; congratulating those who were elected; and warmly thanking all those who once again cast their votes in my favor.

My very good wishes to you all for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

markedly informative. It was written by a retired school teacher in Slovan City, which is a village. A former village commissioner, she has strong views on other matters than Doughbors. Slovan is pronounced with the accent on the latter syllable. Any suggestion that the village city is slow is promptly stamped on by the author. It was published by Gray's Publishing Ltd., of Sidney and the book was produced in the shop of this newspaper. Doughbor Daze will be widely read. It is well titled, for the Doughbor problem of today is still in a daze.—F.G.R.

FAMED NURSERYMAN DIES

Respected Plant Authority

By BERT GREEN
Knut E. Christiansen, a native of Denmark, who died suddenly in Royal Jubilee Hospital last Sunday at the age of 65, was one of the best known and most respected horticulturists in the Pacific northwest and an acknowledged authority on bulb culture and plants of the heath order, notably the azaleas and rhododendrons.

President of the Arboretum Society, he was also a member of Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Society and associated with the Men's Garden Club. His interests were both wide and varied, and he took pride in a unique library of books on horticultural subjects, besides being a connoisseur and collector of works of art.

A visit to his nursery garden at Saanich Road in the spring was an experience not to be forgotten, for the collection of blooms of the narcissi and tulip families on view in the flowering season is probably unsurpassed on the island. Many rare and new varieties were introduced and cultivated by Mr. Christiansen and his wife, Agnes, who also is a skilled horticulturist. Over the years he was in continuous contact with bulb breeders overseas and he imported from Britain.

Mr. Christiansen was known throughout the area as a true landscape artist and many well known private gardens were designed by him.

He will be remembered in Saanich for his contribution to Playfair Park, where in the short space of three years a rough area of bush has been transformed by the Arboretum Society of the Pacific north-west into the well-ordered botanical delight it is today.

Plants were given to this project by all local nurserymen, said Saanich Parks Superintendent A. E.

Richman, and in a personal tribute he remarked, "Mr. Christiansen took a very great interest in the project and contributed a tremendous number of valuable rhododendron and azalea plants to the display." Mr. Christiansen is survived by his widow, a son, Carl, of Pittsburg, California; a cousin, Eric Hagen, of Victoria, and relatives in Denmark.

LAST RITES FOR DR. THOMAS ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Prominent Saanich teacher and politician, Dr. John M. Thomas, of 5242 Jersey Road, Cordova Bay, passed away in hospital on Monday, Dec. 10. Former principal of Mount View high school, Dr. Thomas had previously held a similar appointment at Cobble Hill.

DR. J. N. THOMAS

A native son of Victoria, he had spent many years on the prairies, where he farmed. During his period of residence in the prairie provinces he enthusiastically embraced the young C.C.F. party in whose early growth he played a prominent part.

On his return to Vancouver Island he continued his active interest in the C.C.F. and was federal candidate for that party on several occasions.

In addition to his appointments as principal, Dr. Thomas was also closely identified with the B.C. Teachers' Federation of which he was a past president.

Dr. Thomas retired in June, 1956.

His death was reported on Monday evening to trustees of Saanich School District, by Chairman Reginald Sinkinson.

GREAT LOSS

"His passing is a great loss to education here," stated the board chairman. "Although he was no longer employed as a school teacher, Dr. Thomas has been a valuable source of advice and information to everyone connected with education."

He leaves his wife, Elfreda, at home; a son, Patrick Thomas, of Victoria; a daughter, Mrs. Carol Esau, of Kyuquot; and six grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Alberta

Mellor, of Victoria and Mrs. Ruby Paul, of Qualicum.

Last rites will be observed on Saturday, Dec. 15, at 1:30 p.m. in McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel, with Rev. J. N. Clark and Grant McNeil, of Vancouver, officiating. Interment will follow in Royal Oak Burial Park.

By-law To Ban Parking

By-law that would prohibit parking on Keating Cross Road and a small section of Oldfield Road was given first and second readings by Central Saanich Council on Tuesday evening. Also to be included in the by-law will be parking restrictions on a narrow section of Wallace Drive.

If the by-law is passed at the next meeting of council in January, No Parking signs will be installed the full length of Keating Cross Road. On Oldfield, the signs will be placed several hundred yards south from the intersection with Keating.

Tentative plans to restrict parking to one side only on Wallace Drive, at the curve south of Stelly's Cross Road, were debated. Wallace Drive, being a fire route, must remain clear of obstructions but consideration was given to skaters. Fields alongside this section of the road are popular for skating in the winter, and it was felt that banning parking on both sides of the road would prove too restrictive.

The matter will be discussed further before final reading of the by-law.

FOUR WINS FOR LOCAL TEAMS

By HALFBACK

Local juvenile soccer teams continued their winning pace last Saturday with four wins out of four games played. The results of the games are as follows:

Div. IV—Wright's Oil Service 3 (W. Ruffie, Tony Konopski), Royal Gorge 1. Div. V—Mitchell and Anderson 4 (Ricky Soles, Keith Pumble, Dave Bickford, Ricky North), Oak Bay Optimists 2. Div. VI—Sidney Legion 8, Evening Optimists 1. Division VII—Sidney Flyers 2 (Guy Lawrence, Jody Coward), Pro Pats 0.

Next Sunday, Dec. 15, the following games are scheduled: Div. V—Mitchell and Anderson vs. Royal Gorge at Hampton Park. Div. VI—Sidney Legion vs. Esquimalt Meat Market at Sidney. Div. VII—Sidney Flyers vs. Boys' Club at the municipal office site.

Councillor Vickers told council that several people had approached him and expressed disapproval of the design of the office as pictured in last week's issue of The Review. They considered it to be a "square box" having "no architectural appeal," said Councillor Vickers.

Reeve R. G. Lee said he had heard similar complaints but pointed out that the sketch was just a preliminary drawing. It doesn't mean that the hall will look like that, said the reeve, in fact, if council so decides, it could be a completely different design. The sketch was strictly a proposal, he noted.

Six Prizes For Christmas Contests

Prizes for the home decorating and Christmas tree height judging contests have been announced by Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

For the tree height judging competition, a total of four prizes will be awarded. With two of these for students only. Prizes of passbooks for savings accounts at the Bank of Montreal and Toronto-Dominion Bank with five-dollar deposit will be won by a boy and girl from local schools. Other two prizes which may be won by the general public are a rug donated by Sidney Furniture and a grocery hamper donated by Stan's Grocery.

Tree is located at corner of Beacon Ave. and Fifth St.

There are two prizes for the decorated home competition. First prize will be a powder tankard donated by Martin's Jewellers. This tankard will be engraved to the winner's specifications. Second prize is a table lamp donated by Mitchell and Anderson Lumber Co. Ltd.

Entries for the exterior home decorating contest may be made by sending a postcard with an

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

APPRECIATIVE

May I take this opportunity, through your columns, of expressing my gratitude for the confidence shown in me by the voters of Sidney? I will make every effort to serve the village and to justify the confidence of my supporters.

I would also like to add my appreciation of the work accomplished by Commissioner Larocque during his term of office and my congratulations to Commissioner Boucher upon his return to the council.

L. R. CHRISTIAN.

ASSISTANCE FOR POLICING INVESTIGATED

Possibility of acquiring financial and other assistance of the provincial government in policing the portion of the Patricia Bay Highway which passes through Central Saanich is being investigated by council.

Municipal Clerk D. S. Wood was instructed by council on Tuesday to write to Theodore Adams, secretary of the Union of B.C. Municipalities to ask what procedure should be followed for requesting such assistance.

The subject was introduced by Reeve R. Gordon Lee, who, as chairman of the police commission, told council of the large amount of time, and therefore money, required for the municipal police to patrol the busy artery with its increased traffic as a result of the mainland ferry service from Swartz Bay.

"I am sure there are other municipalities in the province faced with a similar problem," said the reeve.

CELEBRATE 50TH WITH OPEN HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Bull, 8885 East Saanich Road, will celebrate 50 years of married life with an open house on Sunday, Dec. 16.

The well-known couple were married half a century ago in Yorkton, Saskatchewan, on December 18. They moved to Vancouver Island in 1927.

Mr. and Mrs. Bull were married by Archdeacon C. S. Cornish, who is presently in Victoria, and celebrated his 100th birthday several days ago.

Frank's name and address to Box 151, Sidney, or by phoning Mrs. B. L. Hammond at GR 5-1134.

Judging for this event will take place on Friday, Dec. 21.

Contest boxes for the tree height competition have been placed in various stores in Sidney.

CAROL PROGRAM AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH ON WEDNESDAY

Candlelight concert was enjoyed by a capacity audience on Wednesday evening, Dec. 5, in St. Paul's new church hall, Sidney.

J. H. LOCK DIES AFTER THREE YEARS HERE

Residents of Sidney for the past three years, James Henry Lock, 81, passed away in Rest Haven Hospital on December 5. Mr. Lock's late residence was 9666 Fourth St. He was born in Devonshire, England, and was a former resident of Banff, Alta.

Active in local groups, Mr. Lock was a member of Sidney Branch No. 25, Old Age Pensioners' Organization, and of the Pythias Lodge No. 63, in Sidney.

He is survived by his wife, Harriet, at home; two brothers, Frank, in Toronto, and William in Michigan, U.S.A.

Interment in Holy Trinity cemetery followed in services conducted by Rev. Canon F. C. Vaughan-Birch in St. Andrew's Anglican Church on December 7. Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses, Sidney, were in charge of arrangements.

St. Paul's girls' choir, directed by Mrs. W. H. Powell, presented the program.

A varied program of carols included "Carol of the Drum", "A Star Was His Candle" and "The Friendly Beasts".

Solo work was handled very effectively by Cathie and Linda Douma, Barbara Erickson, Hazel Nunn, Linda Wilson and Enid Christian. Miss Jean Christie gave a Christmas story on "Why the Chimes Rang".

The candles were tastefully arranged and the decoration of poinsettias and greenery was in contrast. B. F. Mears was in charge of this work, with Mrs. Adsett, Mrs. Parnell and Miss Williamson attending to other duties.

Rev. C. H. Whitmore introduced the choir.

The girls' choir will be heard again in carols between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m. on Christmas Eve at Town and Country Shopping Centre, Saanich.

INDUSTRIAL BANK LOANS NEW RECORD

The Industrial Development Bank made 53 per cent more loans in its 1962 fiscal year ended last September 30 than in the previous year, according to the 1962 annual report of the president, L. Raminsky, recently issued.

Both the number and amount of the bank's loans to Canadian businesses in 1962 were the highest in its 18-year history. During the year, the bank made 2,085 loans for $92 million, compared with 1,365 loans for $71 million in 1961.

The bank provides financing for small and medium-size businesses with sound prospects which are unable to obtain required financing elsewhere on reasonable terms and conditions. Since it was established by parliament in 1944, the bank has made more than 8,100 loans amounting to $402 millions. Of this total number of loans, 26 per cent were made in fiscal 1962, and the total of amounts outstanding or committed at the end of fiscal 1962 was $204 million.

In his report Mr. Raminsky said that one-third of the loans made during the year were for businesses which became eligible for IDB financial assistance as a result of the 1961 amendment to the Industrial Development Bank Act. Such businesses include wholesale and retail trade, the tourist industry, and recreational and professional services.

The proportion of smaller loans made by the bank has been growing in recent years and, in fiscal 1962, 51 per cent of new loans were for $25,000 or less. They represent, though, only 17 per cent of the total dollar amount of loans authorized and provide only a small proportion of the bank's revenues. The average size of loan was $44,000, down from the level of about $52,000 prevailing in the three previous years.

ARRIVED HERE 60 YEARS AGO

LINK WITH PIONEER DAYS IS SEVERED BY DEATH OF 90-YEAR-OLD Mrs. JOHN ROGERS

A pioneer era, covering the first half of the century on Salt Spring Island, was recalled at the death of Mrs. Martha Alice Rogers in Victoria on December 6, at the age of 90 years.

Mrs. Rogers, born in Ontario, came to Salt Spring Island with her husband in 1902. They pre-empted 800 acres in the Cranberry district on the slopes off Mount Maxwell and developed a successful farm. They lived on the home-stead until a few years ago.

On leaving the farm, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers took up residence on Rainbow Road, in the house built many years ago as a Monday-to-Friday home for Mrs. Rogers and her youngest child, to enable the latter to attend high school in Gan- ges. It was in this home that Mr. and Mrs. Rogers celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary last June.

Mrs. Rogers is survived by her husband, John; two sons, Stanley Rogers, Salt Spring Island, and Archie Rogers, New Westminster; one daughter, Mrs. H. S. (Lorna) Cooley, Victoria; 12 grandchil- dren and 12 great-grandchildren.

MRS. JOHN ROGERS

Funeral services were held in Sands Mortuary Ltd. Memorial Chapel, with Rev. Canon J. Rogers officiating. Pallbearers were six grandsons: Brian Rogers, Sheldon Cooley, Fred Johnston, Eugene Rogers, Glen Jansen and Gary Rogers. Interment took place in Royal Oak Burial Park.

GALIANO

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Robson have left for a stay in Vancouver. Mrs. Robson expects to spend some months there, where their daughter, Miss Carol Robson, works for the B.C. Hydro.

Mrs. W. Davis has returned from a week spent in Victoria, where her eldest daughter was hospital- ized. W. Davis, with their two younger daughters went to Vic- toria for the day on Saturday, to bring them home. Mr. Davis is the principal of the school here.

Mrs. B. A. J. Cowan has return- ed home from a week in Victoria. Mrs. M. Conley has left for a trip to Vancouver.

Miss Sally Steward is home to visit her parents for the week-end, and to attend the rod and gun dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Baines have returned from a trip to Van- couver Island.

Mrs. H. Pelzer is now spending some time in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart have Mrs. Stewart's sister and her hus- band, Mr. and Mrs. Lim, down to visit them from Golden, B.C.

Mrs. B. Stallybrass has returned from a trip to Victoria and Van- couver.

Mrs. A. E. Steward was in Vic- toria recently to visit her mother.

Len Rawluk is over from Van- couver to visit his father, W. Raw- luk, and also to attend the rod and gun dinner.

Nick Cook, of Duncan, V.I., was over visiting old friends recently.

Bazaarnival Yields More Than $600 For School Funds

Ganges school "Bazaarnival" staged by Students' Council last week, raised more than $600 for school projects. Under general convener- ship of council president Marjorie Ginn and Russell Thor- burn, carnival manager, the affair moved along at a lively pace all evening.

Proof of weeks of preparation was seen in the wide variety of articles offered for sale on the main floor of the school; needlework, novelties, woodwork, home baking, plants, garden produce, and a large number of items group- ed under "miscellaneous".

Upstairs a carnival was in full swing, with games of skill, guess- ing contests, and "try-your-luck" attractions. Barbara Newman ac- quired a fruit cake by correctly guessing its weight; Daryl Jorgen- son won a prize for a close esti- mate of number of beans in a jar; George DeLong won the door prize, Shampoo and set donated by Dutch Beauty Salon has not yet been claimed.

TALENT SHOW Third attraction of the evening was a talent show, won by House 2 with 55 points; followed by House 1 with 50 points; and House 3, with 45 points.

Student Council officers gave much credit to their teachers for the outstanding success of the pro- ject, and expressed their thanks for understanding help received from the staff, and enthusiastic support given by parents and friends.

Christmas Tree At Port Washington

A Christmas tree was held in Port Washington Hall on Satur- day. Gay Christmas decorations adorned the hall and the festive theme was carried to the Christ- mas poodles. The tree was well at- tended and Christmas carols were heartily sung by all. Door prize was won by Mrs. Clague. Funds raised by the tree will be used for the upkeep of the hall.

AIR-SEA RESCUE EXPLAINED ON PENDER ISLAND

Audience of 70 adults and 20 children gathered at Hope Pen- der Hall on Friday evening when Pender Island Branch 239 of the Royal Canadian Legion invited several representatives of the Air-Sea Rec- upe Co-ordination Centre to ex- plain their work.

L. J. Armstrong, president of the branch, introduced the speak- ers, Flt.-Lt. Septav, Capt. Dale- Johnson, Flt.-Lt. McKelvie, Cpl. McDougall and LAC Reid.

Capt. Dale-Johnson gave a sum- mary of the marine part of the rescue team and Flt.-Lt. Septav gave an over-all outline of the air-sea-rescue and spoke of the air aspects of the team. Five films of an actual search were shown.

Following the program, Legion members adjourned to the Legion Hall where refreshments were served.

LEGION BINGO UNDERWAY ON SALT SPRING

Bingo games, sponsored by Royal Canadian Legion Branch 92 at Salt Spring Island, got under way December 7 with a full house at Legion Hall at Ganges. Sixty people took part in the entertain- ment.

Beginning in January, games will be played twice monthly. A maximum of 25 games in one year is allowed under new government regulations. Local Legion officials hope to make the games a centre of attraction for residents; in particular, those who feel a need for more social contacts.

Word has been received of the recent death in Victoria of Herbert John Kingdom, former mail car- rier, and resident of Salt Spring prior to 1952.

Several poems were written about Mr. Freeman, paying trib- ute to him for his generous ser- vices to the island. In addition, thank you gifts of an electric shaver and travelling bag were presented to him. Mr. Freeman has been postmaster on the island for the past 16 years, and the en- tire population turned out to honor him.

Wouldn't it be LOVERLY to have an Old Vienna right now.

OUT OF THE MIXING BOWL

Pity Poor Grandmother!

By MURIEL WILSON

For goodness sake what an awful thought! Child bearing may be extended beyond the age of 60. "Some 60-year-old grandmothers may be baby-sitting their own babies instead of their grandchildren," says a Canadian researcher. Pills, pills, pills... a hundred years from now, this time in history may be known as the "Pill Age". We have pills to make us sleep and pills to keep us awake. Pills for slimming, pills for fattening. Pills to make comedians funnier and lovers bolder. There are pills to increase potency and contraceptive pills to prevent conception. It is the side effects of these contraceptive pills that could extend a woman's child bearing years.

FRIGHTENING This to me is a really frightening thought... who could welcome a new baby at age 60? At this age Grandma can be worn to a frazzle after a three-hour stint with a couple of lively grandchildren. Babies at 60? Perish the thought. At this time of life... a.m. bottles, teething, toilet training and measles are for the birds. And who at 80 wants to have college age children? Better watch those pills ladies.

On the way to Vancouver recently my eyes were drawn to two little girls and their mother sitting at a table in the ship's restaurant. Both children had fair curly hair and both wore the same clothes.

DUMB TWIN Because one usually takes a second look at children who appear to be twins my eyes kept straying back to their table. After a couple of glancing looks I could not help a real stare... one of the little girls was a doll and a counterpart of the real child. When they got up to go it was all the real little girl could do to lift and carry her stated that the Christmas ship is scheduled to call at Ganges on December 23 at 9.15 a.m., on its 12th annual international goodwill cruise around the Gulf Islands. Parks committee chairman, D. G. Crofton, reported considerable work done by provincial government at Mount Maxwell Park. Three vantage points on the mountain top have been cleared and railed in, and a parking area provided near the picnic tables. Chairman C. R. Horel extended a vote of thanks to retiring secretary, Mrs. R. C. Hill for her untiring work on behalf of the chamber, and welcomed the new secretary, Mrs. B. Motion.

Legion Ladies Prepare For New Year's Eve Island Dance

Regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, Salt Spring Island Branch No. 92, was held on Tuesday, Dec. 4, in the Legion Hall at 8 p.m. Mrs. Ada Ashby was in the chair, with 21 members present.

The poppy canvass and tag day grossed over $400. The Remembrance Day dinner was reported as the largest attended since the dinners began.

Mrs. Loosmore reported having made three visits to the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital, where she saw nine patients. Mrs. R. Bradley went to the Veterans' Hospital in Victoria three times during November, visiting 28 patients. A sample gift package was on display so that members could see what each veteran would receive for Christmas. This package included socks, smokes, cookies, candies, fruit cake and a miniature garden planted in an ashtray.

LIBRARY SERVICE Four L.A. members assist at the local library each week. Several members volunteered to assist with the bingo games. A report was given on the joint Legion and L.A. executive meeting which was held on November 26.

Final arrangements were made for the New Year's Eve dance. This affair is to be held in the Fulford Hall, commencing at 10.30 p.m. Fischer's orchestra will supply the music. Table and ticket reservations may be made by calling Ganges 88 during the day or Ganges 142X in the evenings. Tickets are limited and must be picked up by 5 p.m. on December 28.

Annual meeting of the auxiliary will be held on January 9 at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

Christmas tradition. If you lived in Euclid, Ohio, where the trees grow tall and the snow is deep you would see a different sign. It says "Chop your own Christmas tree". Not only can you select and cut your own tree but saws and horse-drawn bob sleighs are provided to transport families to and from the tree fields. And your tree will be securely tied to your car for transportation home.

All this and the hospitality of hot coffee by a blazing fire in a huge outdoor fireplace before leaving. The Manners Christmas Tree Farm grows, cuts and sells 20,000 trees a year commercially but come week ends, for a month before Christmas, the Manners extend their hospitality to anyone in the neighborhood who wants the fun of cutting down their own tree. This is the other side of the coin... Christmas is not all commercialism.

CUT OWN TREE "Cut no trees" is a familiar sign to be seen all up and down our Island. Time was when cutting the Christmas tree was one of the highlights of the Christmas season... Father took the children and drove out into the country to cut just the right tree for the living room. To the children it was high adventure and it gave Mama a few precious, quiet hours respite from children boiling with excitement. Those "Cut no trees" signs put an end to what was almost a

ANNUAL ROD AND GUN CLUB DINNER HELD ON GALIANO

Annual Galiano Rod and Gun Club dinner was held at Galiano Lodge on December 8, with a good crowd of members and friends to enjoy the meal. Blessing was asked by the Rev. B. A. J. Cowan. The dinner consisted of baked ham, with sweet potatoes, scallop with delicious pineapple-potatoes, potatoes, vegetables, complete with delicious pineapple sauce.

In the absence of the president, F. E. Robson, vice-president, Doug Graham welcomed the gathering. Seated with him at the head table were his wife, Mrs. Doug Graham, Rev. and Mrs. B. A. J. Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Steward, W. Murphy, W. D. Beach and H. Pelzer. Toast to the Queen was given by T. J. Caralton.

Much fun was had with the Calcutta, won by Mrs. Lee. Aspirins were won by Ervin Case. Mr. Graham then introduced Rev. Cowan, who presented the prizes to the winners of the Big Buck Derby.

First prize, donated by the Rod and Gun Club for the heaviest deer, 151 pounds, was won by Jack Silvey. Prize for the biggest spread, of 18½ inches, also went to Mr. Silvey.

The prize for the most points, six, went to Alfred Atkinson. This prize was donated by E. J. Bambrick. Prize donated by Rod and Gun Club for the first deer weighed in went to Earl Young.

A special prize, given by A. E. Steward, was awarded to John Bell for the second biggest deer,

SHOWER BY PARCEL POST

On Wednesday, Dec. 5, at the home of Mrs. E. H. Case, a parcel post shower was held for Erin Joan Sater, born on November 23 to Mrs. Kenny Sater in the Campbell River Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Sater have recently moved there from Galiano, and the shower was given by Mrs. Case and Mrs. M. E. Backlund. Gifts were displayed on a large table before being wrapped and put in a big box to be sent to the little girl.

Present were: Mrs. Case, Mrs. Backlund, Mrs. Arnold Sater, Mrs. Wally Graham, Mrs. H. Baines, Sr., Mrs. S. Page, Mrs. G. Keeping.

121½ pounds. Rev. Cowan gave an interesting speech, telling of some of his hunting and fishing experiences. He closed by wishing the people "Good hunting, straight shooting, and plentiful fishing."

Mr. Graham thanked Rev. and Mrs. Cowan for attending, also Mr. and Mrs. Clarke for a good meal. He also paid tribute to Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Doug Graham for their hard work in keeping the coffee shop going at each shoot held at the gun club.

Draw prize on the derby tickets was won by Mrs. E. W. Lee. The evening ended with dancing to stereo music supplied by Mr. Clarke.

Galiano Chamber Turns Down Recommendation At Meeting

—For Blacktopping

Quarterly meeting of Galiano Chamber of Commerce was held December 5 in the Galiano Hall with a large turnout of members and guests. President Chester Williams was in the chair, and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. C. Williams, the duties of secretary for this meeting only were taken by Treasurer Mrs. M. E. Backlund.

Recommendations of the roads committee were read by the acting secretary in the absence of chairman F. E. Robson. First of these recommendations that blacktopping for the coming year be started at the North Galiano street, and come south for one mile, met with lengthy discussion and was finally turned down by the meeting. A new plan to put the blacktop on Burrill Drive for 1963 was discussed.

It was decided to ask the department of highways to give extensive work on the North End Road, in the way of stump removal, widening generally with particular emphasis on the road from Retreat Cove north. Chairman for transportation and wharves, S. Riddell, reported that the floats at Whalers Bay have been extended. The chamber is continuing to press for a Sturdies Bay landing for the B.C. government ferry.

Allen Clarke, publicity chairman, reported an abundance of folders were available. Membership chairman, E. J. Bambrick, reported the membership now stands at 87, with two members already paid up for 1963. Entertainment chairman, Mrs. B. J. MacLennan, has now left the island, leaving no one for this position at this time.

Civic affairs chairman, W. D. Beach, reported that letters of commendation had gone to A. E. Steward and T. J. Caralton, for their excellent work done on the garbage dump. He mentioned that donations from interested persons would be welcome, to help pay for this project.

The next meeting, to be held in February, will see the election of officers for the new term.

BANANAS ARE IMPORTED for the same reasons that LEMON HART RUMS ARE IMPORTED

Bananas are not native to Canada... and neither are rum. Lemon Hart, for example, is produced under the most wonderful conditions in The Caribbean. But for Lemon Hart, even that is not enough: it's shipped to London where it rests quietly in underground vaults where neither the temperature nor the humidity varies more than a degree or two year in year out. Then, meticulously blended and bottled it's finally shipped to Canada... smooth, mellow, delicious... a perfect product of that small area of the world that is famous for distinguished rum.

PAN SAAN GROSSES OVER $1000

Between 800 and 900 patrons thronged North Saanich Pan-Saan Carnival on Friday evening to spend a gross amount of approximately $1,100. As usual, the gaily-decorated stalls attracted customers first, then they enjoyed tea, hot dogs, games of skill, the model car show and the movies.

A floor show put on by the students was headlined by the school band, singers Cathy Douma and Lynn Gordon; dancers, Joan Gardner, Sylvia Mills, Julie Cox and Jill Cowan, and a humorous skit. Twenty door prizes were awarded to lucky ticket holders.

After expenses are paid, the proceeds will be used over the next two years to finance extra-curricular student activities at the school.

The students appreciate the generous donations made by Sidney merchants and the fact that so many parents, friends and teachers helped to make the frolic a success.

CANADIAN PUBLICATION ASSERTS

WESTERN WORLD CANNOT WIN COLD WAR

By FRANK RICHARDS

Periodically a copy of a magazine is sent to my desk by an anonymous donor. Published under the title of "Northern Neighbors," it emanates from Ontario and lists a number of editorial staff beneath its masthead. Surprisingly enough, the magazine is Canadian.

It is surprising for the fact that the editorial policy is to find little good in Canada or the Canadian philosophy of life. The magazine is devoted to a near-fanatical adulation of Soviet Russia.

Attractively produced and free of advertising matter, other than publications offered by the sponsoring publishing house, the magazine advocates friendship between Canada and Russia. To prove the value of that friendship it is punctuated with references to the might of the Russian army, its potential for attack and the unfortunate situation of the capitalistic regimes lagging so far behind.

The magazine has been received by a number of local residents who have protested its free distribution.

TWOFOLD

Objection is twofold. The policy of the paper is to support the communistic regime and to offer it as the ultimate philosophy. In addition it asserts no desire to foist atheism on others, but rarely loses an opportunity to play down Christianity.

No intelligent reader is likely to be influenced by the publication. Unfortunately, not all readers are prepared to approach the publication intelligently.

Northern Neighbors is informative. The information offered is not in strict accordance with the facts as seen by an unbiased onlooker. Some of the information is strange. Only Russian ships will stop at a port or call at a port off their route to provide medical assistance to a sick crewman. If the patient is a humble member of the crew, the reader is assured by inference that other nations will offer no assistance. The common market is the means of keeping newly-liberated colonies under the economic control of the bigger nations, the reader is informed.

SAME PURSUITS

Pictures and stories tell of Soviet people doing very much the same as Canadians are doing at home. It is strange that a Canadian publication would find such great interest in sports and activities of another land, while unconcerned with their own.

The magazine is Canadian. It is registered as second class mail by Ottawa. It is not Canadian in its thinking or presentation.

The presentation of an alien philosophy, adulation of an undesirable mode of living and the championing of a God-less morality combine to produce an unattractive production. When the information offered is far from substantiated by current conditions, the reader who is offered the magazine without seeking it is best advised to refuse acceptance at the post office.

$350 RAISED AT CHRISTMAS TEA AND BAZAAR

Proceeds of the Christmas tea and bazaar of Shady Creek United Church Women amounted to approximately $350. This was revealed by Treasurer Mrs. G. N. Foster at the December meeting of the group, held recently in the Fellowship Hall.

President, Mrs. C. J. Cruickshank, thanked all those who helped to make the event a success. The meeting voted a substantial sum to the church board towards the furnace and oil fund for the Fellowship Hall.

Officers' reports and committee reports for the year were presented at the meeting.

The group decided to sell Joe's Notebooks according to the terms of the offer made to clubs and organizations by radio station CJVI. Mrs. E. A. Lyon was appointed to order the books, and will have them available for sale.

Proceeds of a tea held at the home of Mrs. E. E. Cunningham will be added to the fund for re-flooring the church. Mrs. Cunningham was assisted by Mrs. M. Jeffery and Mrs. J. Looy. Guests at the tea enjoyed pictures shown by Mrs. Carter.

Officers were re-elected for another year. The executive consists of president, Mrs. C. J. Cruickshank; vice-president, Mrs. E. A. Lyon; secretary, Mrs. W. Speare; treasurer, Mrs. G. N. Foster. Mrs. V. A. Beaumont conducted the installation ceremony.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. K. Wood. Next meeting will be held on January 8 at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

It's A Dog's Life

-Canine Notes- By Malemute

Dog Obedience Trials held at Sanscha on Saturday were an outstanding success. The attendance did not establish a club record, but the friendly atmosphere and organization left nothing to be desired.

The beginners' class put on a remarkable performance. Seven dogs were entered and all passed their tests, five of them "cum laude", having obtained 85 per cent or better.

Two dogs finished in a tie for top honours with 95 per cent. They were Curly, Miss Joyce Ridge and Amanda, Lt. Cmdr. J. W. C. Barclay. Curly got the highest junior graduation cup and won the run-off for the graduation cup. The other dogs were Dalth, A. I. Daltin; Gina, Lt. Col. G. A. F. Townsend; Jackie, Mrs. M. McCaskill; Ther, Joe Rowton and Fairy Prince, Mrs. E. C. Lambert. Judge of the graduation class was Gil Montgomery.

TIE FOR TOP SCORE

Another tie for top score occurred in the Novice A class between Mrs. L. Siebel's Coodoo and Mrs. G. Mahaffy's Butch, both of the Greater Victoria club, with 3 1/2 points (out of 200) short of a perfect score.

Coodoo received the visitor's cup, while Butch was awarded the class prize. In this class E. Ende's King, with a score of 193, was top scorer of North Saanich Club.

Four other dogs also successfully completed the course: Mrs. K. Burholde's Penny of Victoria Club; Capt. J. D. Prentice's Adam, Mrs. M. McCaskill's Jackie, and Mrs. G. Taylor's Sam, of North Saanich Club. Judge was Mrs. D. B. Hudson of Victoria.

In the more advanced classes the Open A was won by Mrs. R. P. Hemm's Butch of the Victoria Club, and the Open B by Mrs. K. Scott's Rudy of the Nanaimo Club. Judge in these classes was D. B. Hudson of Victoria.

North Saanich Dog Obedience Training Club, at the conclusion of one successful season, is already looking forward to an even better one next year. Spring classes will probably start the second Thursday in February, but the exact date will be settled at the annual meeting, to be held January 10.

INFECTION

We have just learned that the infection that struck pups in Victoria last month was very similar to an infection experienced in England last year.

It takes the form of a congestion of the lungs, akin to pneumonia, and has been established as of Bacillary origin. Prompt treatment is mandatory. As with all ailments, prevention is better than cure.

A warm dry place to sleep is very important during the first few months of your pup's life. Dry him off with an old towel reserved for him. It is all very well to say that nobody would dry him off in the wild state, but you are wrong, you know, his mother would lick him dry and he would have his brothers and sisters for additional warmth.

May we repeat a few suggestions for anyone getting a pup for Christmas, always a popular time with purchasers, if not with breeders.

If possible arrange to pick up your pup early in the day, he then has time to explore and become accustomed to his new surroundings before he is expected to settle down for that first long night alone.

Take with you a large cardboard carton, especially if alone in the car, several newspapers and a towel in case of accidents. If the breeder knows approximately the time of your arrival the pup will probably not have been just fed.

Be sure to obtain feeding instructions from the breeder as you will want to give him the food he is used to for at least the first few days. If you won't be able to obtain necessary provisions on the way home obtain enough from the breeder to see you over.

A hot water bottle (well covered) and an alarm clock will provide company for the first few nights, a cardboard carton cut down to 4 or 8 inches on one side with a couple of newspapers for a "mattress" should prove satisfactory. Introduce it to him as soon as possible, he may want a snooze as soon as he is fed.

WEAVERS LEARN OF METHODS IN OTHER PARTS OF WORLD AS THREE FILMS SHOWN

Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild met in the Art Gallery on Tuesday, Nov. 27, and after a brief period given to checking library books and turning in specimens of weaving, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. G. Anstey.

Plans for the Bastion area, viewed as a home for the various arts and crafts were presented by J. Barraclough and E. Edwards.

Mr. Barraclough urged the need for a "School of Music" to develop good musicians and to give them opportunities to remain in Victoria as members of the symphony orchestra, or as teachers of music.

The Court House is ideal for this, in that it has rooms suitable for concert teaching and library facilities with very little change required, he suggested.

Mr. Edwards stressed its suitability for drama as well as such arts and crafts as music, weaving and pottery. The area in front of the Court House will provide shops interested in the sale of goods produced; also a high class restaurant is proposed.

The project would not be self-supporting for three years and would have to depend on volunteer workers and subscribers.

SUPPORT PROJECT
The Weavers' Guild heartily supports this project and are looking forward to having a long-awaited permanent home in the Bastion.

Films were shown depicting the Though the East Kootenays are the major source of trees for the Christmas trade, Christmas tree farmers do a thriving business in other parts of the province as well, including Vancouver Island.

hand work of the Mexicans, Habitant and Nova Scotians. Each country has its weavers using its own style of looms, spinning wheel, home made dyes and designs. It was an opportunity to compare their methods with those employed here.

The Mexicans make beautiful baskets, blown glass and pottery from local clay.

The Habitant is expert in snow-shoes, builds ships and tills farms in a primitive way, using oxen and reaping his grain by hand. The Nova Scotian uses home materials for dyeing, spinning and weaving, and is an expert wood carver.

The films of each group were rich in color and provided a most interesting and informative evening.

Study groups will be continued in January as these have proved very successful.

AT MUSEUM
On November 3, the Weavers' Guild spent a very pleasant afternoon at the Saanichton Pioneer Museum.

Life as it must have been in those early days unfolded itself as they inspected the pioneer kitchen equipment, the homemade looms, massive fireplace and the huge beams, all hand hewn, that made the house itself.

The ladies, themselves pioneers or descendants of pioneers, served afternoon tea. Mrs. R. E. Nimmo gave an historical sketch of the museum.

FROM SALT SPRING ISLAND

SHE IS TEACHER, DOCTOR, CORONER AND UNDERTAKER NOBODY QUESTIONS AUTHORITY WHEN DEATH STRIKES

Former resident of Salt Spring Island, Mrs. E. C. Sinclair is teaching in a cold, remote community. Since writing to The Review about a year ago, Mrs. Sinclair has moved to Old Fort Bay, Duplessis County, Quebec.

Here is a summary by Mrs. Sinclair of her life in the remote community and the problems accompanying difficult travel and other features of the east coast.

I am in another community of the Labrador, in St. Clement's Anglican Mission.

Old Fort Bay has a long history, supposedly dating back to times previous to the explorations of Jacques Cartier.

This fall interesting pieces of pottery and old monies were uncovered when men were digging near the community—some pieces were dated which tends to support the theory that French fishermen made their summer fishing homes in this area in the 16th century.

At the present time, the population is English-speaking and Protestant. There are 35 houses with a total population of 240. There are 115 children under 16 years of age.

Old Fort Bay has a marvellous sandy beach, and hence has innumerable small black flies and mosquitoes which only left us about 10 days ago, when the weather became blustery and cold with gale-force winds continuously.

Our small local mail boat has been at Bradore Bay for almost a week awaiting fit weather to return with our outgoing mail to Harrington Harbor whence it is dispatched by air to the great "outside".

I teach grade one, which has 27 pupils, including 18 in the beginners' class, a half-day—and the remainder a half-day. I have the beginners, and grades one and two.

DEACONESS
Then I am the Church of England Deaconess here so have the church work as well. My supervisor is Rev. J. E. Burke, of St. Paul's River—the busiest person ever.

Mr. Burke not only has the eastern half of St. Clement's Mission, but he has been time-keeper for the government projects carried out at St. Paul's River and Old Fort Bay. He is government surveyor. Likewise he arranges for the sale of fish for six communities. By doing the latter, the fishermen receive almost double for their produce.

Old Fort Bay has no proper church, just the old school converted into a temporary church hall—How it leaks! . . . We are hoping to make a repair to the roof at a minimum of cost as the building does not warrant expensive repairs.

Our harvest festival service had an attendance of 180. The children sat on mats along the chancel, packed in like sardines—Were they ever good! They were what one would dream children might be! I was thrilled. . . and they really were angelic. I don't suppose such could or would ever happen again.

FUTURE HOLDS CHALLENGE AS MARKETS BROADEN STATES BANKER AT MEETING

In today's fast-changing world, Canadians must meet new challenges with new receptivity to new ideas, according to the president of the Bank of Montreal, G. Arnold Hart.

Mr. Hart told the bank's 145th annual meeting recently that the period of tough trade-bargaining ahead will offer new opportunities in terms of broader markets.

"And in the vigorous pursuit of opportunities which new and growing markets will provide, lies the great challenge to Canadian adaptability," he added.

Shareholders also heard R. D. Mulholland, vice-president and general manager, report a record year's business to October 31, with assets passing $4 billion and loans passing $2 billion, both for the first time at a year end.

INTENSE COMPETITION
It was a year of intense competition for deposits among all financial institutions, he said, with the chartered banks operating under conditions of money restraint for a large part of the time.

Mr. Hart said that although there were weak spots and despite the mid-year foreign-exchange crisis, "in general, the level of economic activity in Canada has been high and rising," so that, "on the whole, this has been a year of progress and it now seems certain that total output in 1962 will reach a record high."

Speaking out in favor of a stable exchange rate "in the interests of orderly business conditions", Mr. Hart said an atmosphere "conducive to an inflow of capital from abroad" has now been re-established. However, while Canada is thus financing its current international deficit, "what we have not succeeded in doing as yet is to eliminate or even to reduce materially the deficit itself."

To do so, the B of M president advocated dual action to expand trade and at the same time to provide healthy growth at home.

He realized that this was "easy to say but not at all easy to accomplish." Certainly, no "warming over" of present attitudes and policies would do it. Rather, Mr. Hart said, we must develop a new adaptability, facing a period "calling for hard thinking and the closest co-operation between government, labor and business."

GOOD COACHING PAYS OFF AS FLYERS TROUNCE OPTIMISTS

By HALFRACK
Persistent and effective coaching was rewarded in the Division VII juvenile soccer game recently when Sidney Flyers won their game 5-0. The Flyers are now playing as a team both in attack and defence as each game adds to its strength. Parents are always welcome on the field to boost the team.

Results of games played December 1 are:

Division 1—Wright's Oil Service 1 (Teddy Nixon), Britannia Legion, no score.

Div. 5—Mitchell and Anderson 2, Ted Clark 2, Dave Dickford 2, Ricky Pumble 1, Keith North 1, Rick Soles 1, Richard Luning 1.

Commercial Christmas tree growers manage their jobs as carefully as any forester, cropping selectively and with an eye to continuous yield.

Songhoes 2.
Div. 4—Sidney Legion 3 (Blackford 2, Saville 1), Oak Bay Optimists 1.
Div. 7—Sidney Flyers 5 (D. Pumphol 2, Joyce 2, Jody Soward 3), Victoria Optimists, no score.

LAST DAYS IN BED
Uncle Dick, my nearest neighbor, was found dead at his traps, four miles south of the community. Because it was winter, there was no place to take him to prepare him for burial. He was brought by khamitie to the school. We placed boards between the aisles. There he was shaved, washed, and dressed. I assisted. Then the problem arose . . . where to keep him? Quickly a neighbor and I routed everything from my bedroom, and Uncle Dick, who had never so much as looked seriously at a woman in his 70 years of life, spent his last two days in a teacher's bedroom until burial could take place.

I wired the facts to our nearest doctor who was satisfied that death was due to natural causes and authorized me to proceed with the burial. We had to await dog-teams from St. Augustine to bring in the necessary lumber and casket linings. The coffin was then locally made late at night by neighbors.

What a cold stormy day it was when we set out with dog-teams to go the two-and-a-half miles for the interment! There by his beloved sea we left Uncle Dick to sleep; and committed his body to the grave.

OPTOMETRIST ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Dr. R. J. Scholefield, of Sidney, has returned from Portland, Oregon, where he attended the 26th annual northwest congress of optometry, a three-day seminar of post-graduate lectures.

Main topic of the congress centered around the care of children's vision, and the correlation between seeing and learning.

"The latest techniques for correcting strabismus (crossed eyes) by vision training were discussed," reported Dr. Scholefield. "One of the most important developments in optometric service lies in visual guidance for the pre-school child, which is based on the premise that it is much better to prevent vision trouble than it is to try and remedy it."

Further Payment On Instruments

At a recent meeting of the Saanich secondary school band the treasurer was authorized to pay $354 as a further payment on the bass instruments bought a year and a half ago. A balance of $300 is left.

The payment was made possible as the result of generous donations to the band, proceeds from the magazine sales, and the returns from the Saturday evening program and dance.

It is hoped that proceeds from a bottle drive, now under way, will provide funds to clear up the balance of the debt in the new year.

Bottles may be left on Saturday mornings at the building on First St., behind Gordon's Low Cost Grocery.

Two New Local Wines Are To Be Offered Throughout B.C.

Two Saanich wines are to be available through liquor stores of the province.

Growers' B.C. Cherry Wine and Slinger's B.C. Blackberry Wine will now be available to all liquor stores in the province of B.C. as from this week.

B.C. still cider in the 40-oz. take-home size is also available to all liquor stores this week.

The two wines were offered in specialty stores in Vancouver initially. Public demand has resulted in the offering through all provincial liquor stores of these new products.

$176,000 CONTRACT LETShoal Harbor Wharf
Ready In Six Months Time

A $176,982.50 contract has been awarded to the Victoria Pile Driving Company Limited of Victoria, for the construction of a boat harbor at Shoal Harbor.

The company submitted the lowest bid of nine in response to advertising for public tenders which closed on October 24, reports George Chatterton, Esquimalt-Saanich M.P. The highest bid was $279,941. The work is scheduled for completion within six months.

WORK ENVISAGED

Work under this contract consists of building an approach 20 feet wide by 692 feet long; constructing two wharfhedds, one 40 feet by 49 feet and the other, 90 feet by 97 feet, as well as two floats, one nine feet wide by 303 feet long and another nine feet wide by 368 feet long.

The approach will run out from Resthaven Drive. Both it and the wharfhedds will be of timber, with a concrete composite deck on creosoted fir pile timber bents. The superstructure of the floats will be constructed with untreated and creosoted timber over fibreglass-covered plywood pontoons. Each wharfhed will be fitted with a five-ton steel derrick.

In addition, dredging will be carried out in an entrance channel 150 feet wide by 100 feet long and in the boat harbor basin, approximately 325 feet wide by 560 feet long.

FACILITIES NEEDED

The harbor facilities are required to provide accommodation for the local commercial fishing fleet. There are no public facilities at Sidney and existing private mooring facilities are overcrowded as is the nearest public fishing harbor at Victoria.

Plans and specifications were prepared in the Vancouver district engineer's office of the department of public works. A. W. Walkey, of the department at Victoria, will be responsible for supervision of the work.

Allocation of the contract spells the culmination of many years of work on the part of local fishermen for such a facility here. The Sidney local of United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union has expressed confidence that many commercial fishermen will establish their homes in Sidney with the provision of an adequate harbor for their craft.

BAND PRACTICE

South Saanich Schools Band will use Royal Oak secondary school auditorium for practices in future.

Fire on Friday afternoon, Nov. 30, gutted two rooms at the home of Dr. E. A. Jarman, Ganges, resulting in total loss of the children's bedroom furniture, clothing and toys. Considerable smoke and water damage was done to the doctor's office and adjacent rooms.

Cause of the blaze was traced to matches procured from an unknown source, in the hands of Dr. and Mrs. Jarman's small son.

Prompt response by Salt Spring Island voluntary fire department is credited with saving the residence from complete destruction. Loss is covered by insurance.

Combined Sign For Tourists Investigated By Chamber

A sign which would list a number of businesses in Central Saanich that rely heavily on the tourist industry is being investigated by a committee headed by Roy Bullough for the Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

Advertisers on the sign would pay in proportion to the amount of space they occupied. Butchart Gardens Ltd., considered the main tourist attraction in the area, has signified interest in the project and will probably be the largest contributor to the sign.

In outlining present plans for the sign, Mr. Bullough showed the chamber a sketch of a proposed sign prepared by Bleasdale Advertising Ltd. of Victoria.

This proposed sign would be 25 feet by 10 feet. Butchart Gardens' advertisement would cover almost 50 per cent of the total area, being designed in the form of a directional arrow. The remaining space would be filled by smaller rectangular advertisements in one of two manners: generalized ads such as "Sports Fishing" or individual advertisements like "Theodore's Boat House".

Such signs would replace the numerous "scrappy" signs now scattered throughout the area.

Mr. Bullough pointed out that permission of municipal councils would be needed in some areas where signing by-laws would not permit such a sign.

CLOGGED UP!

Publication of The Review was delayed last week by a simple, little, 1/2 h.p. electric motor. The motor powers the newspaper folder and completed copies were produced in good time but staff was unable to fold them. The offending piece of equipment was removed and repaired overnight. The diagnosis: Clogged up with old ink and powdered paper.

"We will have to be careful on this count," said Mr. Bullough. He observed that the signs could be made on a smaller scale if it proved necessary.

Investigation into the possibility of establishing the proposed signs is continuing and various businesses in the area are being contacted and asked if they would be willing to advertise on such signs.

The committee will make a further report at the next meeting of the chamber in January.

By JIM BRIGHAM

Typifying the pharmaceutical industry's tireless search for new methods to replace the old, a new series of drugs has been developed to replace electric shock treatment of some cases of mental illness. These new drugs, called psychic energizers, are preferred to the old treatment in some instances, for several reasons: some patients find electric shock treatment distasteful; the new drugs are far less expensive, safer, more convenient and just as effective as shock treatment; the new drugs do not require hospitalization, and they can be administered without a physician in attendance. A further advantage is that the drugs are chemical in their action, and chemical imbalance is considered to be the cause of certain types of mental depression.
